

On December 28th 1988, the company DURATEC Analysentechnik GmbH was founded in Frankenthal (under the former name Degenhardt GmbH).

In the first years, the special developments for spectral photometers and colour measuring instruments, and the repair service were given special emphasis.

After years of continuous growth, on the 1st April 1994, the headquarters were moved to the north – BADEN town Reilingen and the company name was changed to DURATEC Analysentechnik GmbH. In August 2003 the headquarters were moved to the new company facilities in Hockenheim.

Today the range of products comprises own devices for the chromatography, spectroscopy and the process engineering field, spare parts and consumables for chromatography systems of renowned manufacturers, services in repairs, maintenance and special developments.

In the meantime our young team consists of eleven members of whom most have completed studies in science (3 Physicists, 2 Chemists). Qualified advisory service, technical know-how and continuously looking after our customers on site made DURATEC Analysentechnik GmbH an excellent name for a reliable partner.

Our quality management system (DIN ISO 9001 2000) ensures high quality products.
